ASI | APPLIED SPECTRAL IMAGING

ASI is looking for a motivated and talented
Verification Testing Engineer

Job Description

Ownership of designing, planning and writing Verification Testing documentation for existing and future products/features/modules, according to requirements

Execution of components level and E2E system tests with documented test results

Test functional, clinical and technical aspects of the products

Reporting of findings and progress according to the company procedures

Providing effort and time estimations of testing process for existing and future products/features/modules

Taking an active part in interactions with Development, Application, Project Management and Customer Support team members throughout the lifecycle of a project/Product

Assisting other testing engineers with testing assignments and/or training

Taking part in customer and field issues support investigation

Professional Skills

Academic degree in Computer Science/Bio Medical or equivalent academic background with relevant experience

At least 5 years' experience in SW hands-on testing

Fluent English - Speak, Write, Read - Must

Keen interest in testing and quality issues – Must

Technical ability in operating complex software and hardware- Advantage

Experience in bio-Medical system testing – Advantage

Formal Testing Certification (ISTQB) – Advantage

Experience with manual testing - Advantage

Personal Skills

Motivated and Diligent

Assertive and Proactive

Fast learner with 'can do' approach

Communicative and team player

Efficient and Effective approach

Flexible (working hours, workload, concurrent tasks and projects)

Ability to work in a dynamic environment

For further information, please contact ASI Ltd at HR-ASI@spectral-imaging.com