

Clinical Engineer

Job description:

We at CathWorks, a dynamic successful and well-funded medical device startup in the field of cardiac imaging are looking for a professional Clinical engineer.

As a Clinical engineer you will be part of a R&D team in the field of cardiovascular imaging.

You will use software and mathematical models to design, develop and test new algorithms.

Support regular testing activities.

Train new users (doctors/nurses/techs) in the field on application – includes travel abroad.

Coordinate software updates with developers' teams.

Requirements:

Experience with cardiovascular medical devices

Strong computer and technological skills

Ability to write reports and effectively present information

Prior clinical specialist experience in the field of cardiovascular

Experience working directly on product development

Experience utilizing MATLAB for analysis

Previous system V&V experience

At least 3 years' experience in biomedical engineering or clinical science

Degree in bio-medical engineering or medical sciences or health related fields

Send your CV: oded@cath.works