

Allevetix Medical is looking for V&V leader

The company is based in Caesarea and develops a novel treatment for diabetes.

As part of an effort to extend Allevetix engineering department, we are looking for an experienced Verification and Validation Engineer, to lead the variety of V&V activities of the company.

The ideal candidate should be creative and proactive, to work successfully in a fast-paced. The individual will work closely with the team throughout executing tests, tracking, reporting results, troubleshooting and coordinating defect resolution.

Responsibilities

In this role, you will be involved in all V&V activities by reviewing risk management of design control documentation for development projects and will manage the Master Plans, V&V docs and Test Method Validations.

- Ensuring the validation activities are executed in accordance with the company validation policies and procedures.
- Identifying the scope of the testing required for any requirements, and specifying the required validations.
- Managing the Sterilization, shelf life and biocompatibility testing.

Qualifications

- Education: B.Sc. in Engineering or other related discipline
- Experience: At least 3 years experience in V&V positions, Medical device experience- an advantage, Experience in creating design verification plans and protocols- an advantage.
- Ability to generate protocols, reports, procedures, and other documents based on product requirements.
- Ability to analyze and summarize test raw data.
- Well organized
- Proficient in English

Relevant CV please send to info@allevetix-medical.com with title "Position 234 YOUR FULL NAME"